Welcome to Heraklion!

Dear colleagues,

It is a great pleasure to welcome you to the 32nd European Workshop on Neonatology (EWoN), taking place from 2–4 October 2025 in the historic city of Heraklion, Crete.

For more than 30 years, EWoN has provided a unique platform for the exchange of scientific ideas and expertise in a collegial and stimulating atmosphere across Europe and neighbouring countries. This year’s workshop continues this tradition, bringing together distinguished speakers and participants to foster dialogue and collaboration across virtually all areas of neonatology.

We are confident that the scientific programme will inspire productive discussions, strengthen professional networks, and contribute to advancing knowledge and practice in our field.

Crete, with its breathtaking landscapes and rich Minoan heritage, provides an exceptional backdrop for the workshop. Heraklion, the island’s capital, offers both the opportunity to engage in rigorous scientific exchange and to experience the culture and hospitality of this remarkable region.

We wish you a rewarding and memorable meeting.
